

BOISE CODE CAMP 2008

Saturday, March 8th, 2008

At Boise State University in the College of Business and Economics

Register today to attend free: www.BoiseCodeCamp.org

This free event for technical professionals is produced by the community, for the community. Code Camp is bigger than ever this year featuring new and exciting technologies, training on fundamentals, a great party, and more.

- 64 sessions from 53 amazing presenters
- The best training value available anywhere
- Fewer slides, more code and examples
- Familiar names and local real-world coders side by side
- An incredible amount of talent and information
- Free lunch, dinner, swag, and give-aways
- Held during non-work hours (we have jobs too)
- Sessions for non-coders as well
- Amazing after party in the BSU stadium Hall of Fame room

No matter whether you are a seasoned coder, a student, a business analysis in software, a project manager, or a hobbyist technologist, there is something at code camp for you. Invest in yourself and come prepared to learn about these things and more:

- ASP.Net
- Agile / Methodology
- Architecture
- Client Development
- Databases and DB development
- Delphi
- Fundamentals
- Games & Graphics
- Google APIs
- I.T. And Operations
- Languages & Frameworks
- Mobile
- Security
- Web Development
- WCF, WF, WPF
- Virtualization
- XML and the Web
- Java, .Net, SQL, Oracle